AS A WOMAN SEES IT

By RHETA CHILDE DORR.

"The East must learn of the West," said President Wilson some time ago. The East is accepting this suggestion, rather reluctantly, it is true, but accepting it nevertheless. Last winter the New York state legislature voted down with jeers a bill permitting the appointment of women for police duty. "The lawmakers seemed to think the bill was a joke," says the published report. Just as another set of New York lawmakers seemed to think that a bill abolishing the common drinking cup was a joke. The legislative halls rang with innocent merriment on that occasion, if memory serves aright.

But the East is learning. New Jersey has just appointed its first police-woman. Mrs. Hannah D. Long, of Trenton, with three other women, took a civil service examination a few weeks ago, and Mrs. Long received the appointment. The new policewoman at once began her duties, which include the supervision of dance halls, places where liquor is sold, or is suspected to be sold, to minors, and other places where the health and morals of girls and boys may be in danger. Trenton streets after dark will soon know Mrs. Long and her trim uniform, and young girls out late will have a watchful guardian.

More than thirty cities of the West and middle West now have policewomen, and like them immensely. The first one to be appointed was Mrs. Alice Stebbins Wells, of Los Angeles. At the last National Conference of Charities and Corrections Mrs. Wells told some of her experiences. Among other things she said: "I know two things—that women and girls in trouble have a right to the sympathetic help of women officers, and that men officers have a right to exemption from what may be a constant temptation to the weak and from enforced and unnecessary association with those who, if resentful, may sat a cloud upon the reputation of the most exemplary."

Every one who has observed the splendid work of women probation officers will agree with the first part of Mrs. Wells's contention. And anybody who knows anything at all about policemen and their duties will agree with the latter part. Policemen are human beings. They have wives and families, most of them, and some of the work they are called upon to do is a source of constant anxiety to their wives and families. Many a man has resigned from the force rather than do plain clothes duty, which means arresting women. By all means put the whole business of dealing with women delinquents into the hands of women.

COOPERATION BY AMERICA BEING URGED

In Reconstruction of Mexico So Badly Devastated by the Warring Factions.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Dec. 16.—American co-operation in Mexico's reconstruction was urged upon the members of the Southern Commercial Congress here today by Dr. Victor A. Rendon, of Yucatan, who said the people of Mexico desire the help of the American people "in reconstructing the country and restoring the prosperity which its vast resources entitle it to enjoy."

Dr. Rendon is general attorney for the commission appointed by the government of Yucatan to regulate the sisal hemp market of that state where three-fourths of the entire population are engaged directly or indirectly in the sisal hemp industry. The commission's main object has been to break up the monopoly of the henequen, or sisal hemp, market, which Dr. Rendon said had been in existence for the last twelve years in the interest of the International Harvester Company and the Plymouth Cordage Company, of Massachusetts and which he declared had restrained the people of Yucatan from enjoying economic independence.

Southerners Assist. It was through capital from southern bankers and business men that the government commission in Yucatan had been able to fight the monopoly, and aside from thanking the southerners for their assistance, Dr. Rendon said that this aid was a concrete illustration of the way in which the American people could help Mexico now that the revolution was "happily nearing a triumphant termination."

"Some of those whose exploitation of Mexico has been carried on at the expense of the poor people," he said, "are American corporations, but I am pleased to say they are few compared with the thousands of your countrymen who have come amongst us with the purpose to devote themselves to the earning of an honest livelihood. These latter have been welcomed by Mexico.

"In Mexico we find that those foreigners whose exploitations are detrimental to the common welfare of the nation are, usually, guilty of like practices in their own countries. We find, too, that frequently they have had to deal with an outraged public sentiment in their native lands and that laws had been enacted to curb their objectionable activities."

Farmers are Bound. As to the situation in Yucatan, Dr. Rendon said many of the farmers were bound hand and foot to the agents of the International Harvester Company and the Plymouth Cordage Company by virtue of mortgages on their crops to secure loans bearing ten per cent interest, sometimes more. It was in view of these conditions that the henequen growers had agreed to sell their product through the regulating commission that had been created by the legislature for safeguarding their interests. Dr. Rendon was one of those sent to the United States to establish independent markets for the Yucatan product, an done day that formal recognition was accorded to the present government in Mexico, he secured the signatures of New Orleans bankers to a loan contract providing for the advancement of a maximum of $10,000,000 to the sisal hemp commission on warehouse receipts covering the product stored at New Orleans or other United States ports. Through this arrangement an inde-

How to Peel Off a Weatherbeaten Face

It's really a simple matter to renovate a face soiled by dirt, wind or cold. Ordinary mercurized wax, used like cold cream, will transform the worst old complexion into one of snowy whiteness and velvety softness. It literally peels off the outer veil of surface skin, but so gently, gradually, there's no discomfort. The worn-out skin comes off, not in patches but evenly, in tiny particles, leaving no evidence of the treatment. The younger, healthier under-skin forming the new complexion is one of captivating loveliness. One ounce of mercurized wax, to be had at any drug store, is enough to remove any coarse, chapped, pimply, freckled, faded or sallow skin. Apply before retiring, washing it off mornings. Many skins wrinkle easily with every wind that blows. An excellent wrinkle-remover, because it tightens the skin and strengthens relaxed muscles, is a wash lotion made as follows: Powdered saxatite, 1 oz.; dissolved in witch hazel, one half pint. This gives immediate results.

A. P. MONROE IS AN ENTHUSIAST FOR NERV-WORTH

Writes Burke Drug Store That Self and Wife Have Gained Much Health.

The following striking tribute to Nerv-Worth merits have just come from A. P. Monroe, of Point Comfort, First avenue, Clarksburg.

"Burke's Drug Store—I have suffered with nervous indigestion since last January. Pains in both sides and also in stomach. My stomach would swell and bloat, which would cause considerable pain and keep me from sleeping at night. Would be up and down nearly all night and all the sleep I would get would be about four hours. My appetite was irregular. Sometimes smothering spells. Frequently spots before my eyes. Some dizziness. Bad breath, and bad taste in my mouth when I'd get up in the morning. Was about as tired in the morning as when I went to bed."

"I have taken part of a bottle of Nerv-Worth and my health is improved and I feel much better. Pain in the right side entirely gone, and in left side the pain is gradually leaving. No pain in stomach, bloating gone, sleep six to seven hours every night, my appetite is good now. I feel rested in the morning when I get up, spots and dizziness all gone. Taking it all around I'm better every way than I've been for a year."

"My wife is taking the medicine also and she is getting better and we are both beginning to enjoy health once more."

(Signed) A. P. MONROE. At the Burke Drug Store they will give you your dollar back if Nerv-Worth doesn't help you.

FOR BRONCHITIS, SEVERE COUGHS, COLDS AND WHOOPING COUGH

Make the Best Medicine at Home—128 T. spoonfuls, 50c

Money spent for the old style, ready-made medicine usually sold in bottles holding only 2 to 2½ ounces (16 to 20 teaspoonfuls) is largely wasted, because most of them are composed principally of sugar and water. Yet you have to pay the same price as if it were all medicine. Stop wasting this money. You can make a better remedy for bronchial affections, at home at one-fifth the cost. Merely go to the Wells-Haymaker Co.'s drug store and ask for 2 ounces (50c worth) of Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expectant, which they guarantee will give perfect satisfaction or money will be refunded. Mix this with one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of boiling water, which makes a full pint (128 teaspoonfuls). This new, simple, pleasant remedy is guaranteed to relieve the worst cough or cold, Bronchial Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, Hoarseness and Whooping Cough. One bottle will make enough home-made medicine to probably last the whole family the entire winter. Children like it, it is so pleasant to take. It is unlike any other medicine, and positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine or other narcotics, as do most cough mixtures. Keep it on hand in case of emergency and stop each cough before it gets a firm hold. The above druggists, in fact any druggist in this city, will return the money (just the same as is done with Schiffmann's famous Asthmador) in every single case where it does not give perfect satisfaction or is not found the best remedy ever used. Absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy—under this positive guarantee.—Advertisement.

pendent line of steamers was now in operation between New Orleans and Yucatan and, he said, "We are now selling henequen at one price to all, thus putting the independent twine manufacturers of the United States on an equal footing with the big corporations which heretofore were in control of the market."

The speaker pointed out that the commission was not a stock company and could neither declare nor pay dividends. "It is simply a state institution created by the legislature for the sole purpose of protecting the agricultural interests of our state. In conclusion let me say that I hope that what I have said will stimulate the spirit of cordial co-operation between the people of the United States and those of their neighboring countries."
